Subject: Application for Re-admission.

By the means of this application, I want to say that I was a student of 2019 batch, ECE Branch but I had to leave college after 1st semester because in November 2019, my mother during her regular medical checkup got to know that she had brain tumor along with 1st stage cancer. My relatives took her to the hospital. I had to go there with my cousin since I'm the only child of my parents. Also since my father isn't with us anymore, I had to quit college to take care of her. I was with my mom at home and after that covid started which indirectly hit us financially. I could not send an application mentioning the reason. Even then, I owe this negligence.

Now my mom is completely fine by the grace of God. I would to continue my studies.

So, kindly re-admit me to the college from 1st semester (if possible).

Thanking You.

Pending ad sheet and Yours Obediently.

Findings:

Small foci of altered signal intensity, hyperintense on T2W and FLAIR and hypointense on T1W images noted in right frontal lobe in parasagittal location extending in periventricular region. Few hypointense foci on FLAIR are noted within the lesion. No obvious enhancement is noted on post-contrast scan - ? post-op changes with gliotic foci ? cause.

Extra-axial spaces are mildly prominent with dilatation of bilateral lateral and third ventricles - suggestive of diffuse age related cerebral atrophy.

Few small hyperintense foci on T2W and FLAIR are noted in left corona radiata - ? old lacunar infarcts.

Otherwise cerebral parenchyma appears to be normal.
No midline shift is seen.

Corpus Callosum is normal.

Sella and parasellar regions do not reveal any significant abnormality.

Cerebellum and brainstem are unremarkable.

Cerebellar tonsils are normal in location.

The alumni association has taken a paradigm shift over the years in terms of organizing/facilitating Batch alumni meets. Conquering upon the COVID 19 Pandemic, the association recently organized the golden jubilee celebrations of 1971-76 batch in the institute campus. During the celebrations, the batch made a financial contribution of Rs 25 lakh [kept in the form of FD] to be utilized for the benefit of students of the institute. A committee comprising of members from 1971-76 Batch under the chairmanship of the President was constituted by the Executive Committee [EC] to take the decision about the utilization of funds.

After two online interactions among the committee members, it has been decided to propose to establish seven [07] scholarships of Rs. 20,000 and a certificate each; to be given to the economically weaker and top ranked students from all seven [07] branches of 3rd Semester, based upon their first-year results and to be made effective from academic session 2022- 23. S 47. 09      To consider and decide the proposal for starting M.Tech. program in Defence Technologies from the Academic Session 2023-24.

NIT Kurukshetra has recently signed an MoU with Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO). The DRDO has been pursuing basic and applied research in collaboration with academia and has been funding the research projects through various mechanisms to engage academia under its Grant-in-aid scheme. DRDO has established very good connect with faculties and researchers of academia through research projects. So far the engineering education in country do not have M.Tech. courses, adapted to impart knowledge related to defence and security applications. Defence Institute of Advanced Technology (DIAT) Pune, College of Military Engg. (CME) Pune and select Institutes and industries have been mainly providing required specialized knowledge related to defence and security to the students and armed forces personnel.

DRDO has collaborated with AICTE for conducting the regular M.Tech. course in Defence Technologies in the following six specialized streams:

- i. Combat Vehicle Engineering
- ii. Aerospace Technology
- iii. Naval Technology
- iv. Communication Systems & Sensors
- v. Directed Energy Technology
- vi. High Energy Materials Technology

The M.Tech. in defence technology courses have been designed to produce post graduates who will have the necessary theoretical and experimental knowledge, skill and aptitude in various defence technologies areas and pursue them to carry out R&D in defence so that they can get recruited in the various defence laboratories, defence public sector & private industries, ordnance factories and other similar sectors of the economy at national and international level.

The syllabi for M.Tech. in Defence Technology and guidelines have already been approved by AICTE in the year 2021-22 which are enclosed as Annexure S 47.09 from pages 101 to 111.

The Senate may consider and decide.

M. Tech. (Defence Technology)

1. Introduction

DRDO has been pursuing basic and applied research in collaboration with academia, since last six decades. DRDO has been funding the research projects through various mechanisms to engage academia under its Grant-in-Aid scheme. In last five years, DRDO has given impetus to create Research Eco-system for Directed Research by establishing the Centres of Excellence within premier institutes and universities. DRDO is continuously taking efforts towards expanding the research base by engaging faculties, researchers, scientists, start-ups and industries for developing targeted emerging and futuristic technologies to accelerate the technological self-reliance in defence and security of the nation. DRDO has collaborated with AICTE for conducting the Regular M.Tech Course in Defence Technologies having 6 specialized streams and B.Tech (Elective Courses) in collaboration with All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE). The M.Tech. courses would infuse interest in students and motivate them to pursue their career in research and development for defence and security to join defence, PSUs and private defence industries.

2. Need for M.Tech. (Defence Technology)

DRDO has established very good connect with faculties and researchers of academia through research projects. So far the engineering education in the country do not have M.Tech courses, adapted to impart knowledge related to defence and security applications. Defence Institute of Advanced Technology (DIAT) Pune, CME Pune and select institutes and industries have been mainly providing required specialized knowledge related to defence and security to the students and armed forces personnel.

The M.Tech. in defence technology courses has been designed to produce Post Graduates who will have the necessary theoretical & experimental knowledge, skill and aptitude in various defence technologies areas and pursue them to carry out R&D in defence. The students will be provided valuable exposure & knowledge for various state of the art defence systems and contemporary technologies through class lectures & main thesis work. During the program, the students would be given valuable exposure by carrying out their main thesis work in DRDO labs, Defence PSUs & Private Defence Industries. This collaborative effort of DRDO, AICTE and Industries will provide required knowledge to the students and create job opportunities for them. The academic-industry trained workforce will immensely contribute in realizing GOI vision of Atmanirbhar Bharat.

3. Program Objectives

1. To develop Post Graduates who have the necessary theoretical & experimental knowledge, skill and aptitude in defence technologies and systems and can get recruited in the various defence laboratories, defence public sector & private industries, ordnance factories and other similar sectors of the economy at national and international level.
2. To contrive skilled manpower in the field of defence technologies.
3. To enhance students' interaction with the senior, experienced manpower engaged in defence labs and defence industries and have real time knowledge / experience in the technology development, technology deployment and defence systems.
4. To acquaint students for the needs of technologies related to defence & security of nation and to create zeal among students to pursue research and development for defence technologies.

Now, the Committee has submitted its report which is enclosed as Annexure

S 47.10 from pages 113 to 114.

The Senate may consider and decide.

Report of the Committee on Exploring 'Relative Grading System'

This is with reference to the committee constituted vide letter Acad/2019/1135 dated 23.10.19 for exploring the adoption of 'Relative Grading System'. The committee had several meetings and discussion rounds.

Observations:

1. In several IITs / NITs special emphasis is on the student registration process. Its main highlights are:
  - a. A student has to first take part in pre-registration that shows his intent to take a particular course. On the basis of pre-registration and certain prerequisites, it is decided whether the student will be allowed a particular course. Only after the pre-registration, the actual next semester registration is done.
  - b. There are institute core courses, program core courses and program elective course. Requisite credits must be achieved in such courses.
  - c. If a student fails (in overall %), he has to appear in Major again in the exam held (called Major-retest) in the first week of next semester by the course coordinator.
  - d. If a student again fails in the core course, the course must be repeated. It is not year loss. Only thing is that he has to sit in the classes of that core course again. He may continue his other studies. However, if this core course is a prerequisite for other courses, then this core course must be passed first.
  - e. It is not necessary to reappear in an elective course. A student may take some other elective some other time and earn the credits.
  - f. Each program of study has total credits to be earned. A student can earn total credits by taking different electives but core courses are fixed. However, a student must earn minimum number of credits from Departmental electives and non-departmental electives separately.
  - g. It is observed that there is lower and upper limit on the credits that may be earned in a given semester.
  - h. A student can add/drop/withdraw from a registered course before Minor exam or a pre-notified date as per documented guidelines. A course taken by a student may change to audit upon request, if requested before a certain last date.
  - i. Slot-wise time table is required for providing flexibility to students for opting various courses.
  - j. There are clear and detailed guidelines in every Institute regarding registration process.
2. There is DUGC (Department UG Committee) that also does the moderation (and may override coordinator) apart from other functions. Likewise, there are DPCC and other committees too. The well documented roles of each committee, course coordinator, faculty advisor etc. are in place.
3. In IIT Roorkee, for class strength smaller than 30, absolute grading may be followed otherwise for class strength more than 30 relative grading is followed. (Default is relative grading in most institutes)

Sanjay 5-12-19
6/12/19
6/12/19
6/12/19

4. The cut-off for deciding different various letter grades (A+, A, B ...) are decided by the course coordinator and then announced in the first lecture and notified to all and sent to various stakeholders before the classes begin.
5. Different courses may have different cut-off criteria for various letter grades.
6. Highest letter grade has some minimum % marks, which is same across the Institute (80% in IITD, 91% in IIT Roorkee, 70% in NIT Surathkal) i.e. course coordinator cannot award A+ below this cut-off to any student. This bar may be moved up.
7. Lowest Pass grade i.e. if a student has 35% marks overall in a course in IITD/IIT Roorkee, then even in the relative grading system, the student cannot fail. The same is 20% in NIT Surathkal. A student cannot fail if he/she scores this much.
8. The cut-off (range) for grades (% ranges) changes every year depending on result and again announced. IIT Roorkee has a suggested 'ranges' for grades using statistical method (also for absolute method).
9. It is also observed that it is not necessary to pass in mid-sem and end-sem components separately. The grade is decided on the total marks obtained.
10. There is only One Minor (mid-term exam), Two/Three Quizzes, One Major (end-term exam whose weightage may be in the range 30-70%). Plus, there are assignments and project components also as decided by the coordinator for the theory/lab course.
11. Minor and Major exams are mandatory for a student.
12. Before major exam, a teacher could offer rescue assignments also.
13. There are no marks of attendance. However, every institute has some guidelines on attendance requirement. In some institutes, a teacher may announce count of attendance marks up to 5% within the total marks.
14. Due to less attendance, fail grade may be awarded and so student will need improvement as a Major-retest.
15. There is a lot flexibility and responsibility provided to each individual faculty within the well documented registration and curriculum framework.

Recommendations:

- The committee recommends that the Institute may opt for 'Relative Grading System'. However, before switching over to relative grading system, the prerequisites for it such as DUGC/DPGC committee formulations and clearly laid down registration procedures, and other guidelines for faculty and students should be implemented and brought into practice.
- It is also required to carry out necessary changes and modifications in the current curriculum framework.
- Further, intensive faculty training is required for smooth transition from current system to relative grading system.
